

Stephen Cooper, SIOR
Executive Vice President

“I worked with Stephen Cooper on a project that took over a year to complete, giving me ample opportunity to judge his performance. I can confidently recommend Stephen as a commercial real estate agent; he has proven himself to be professional, knowledgeable, and honest.

He diligently took us through both leasing and purchase options and was able to clearly explain the subtleties and provide us with solid negotiation points.

He listened to us, offered advice and eventually lead us to a property that fit our needs. He guided us through closing and even helped us in finding the right construction team to complete the finish out after the sale.

Stephen never missed a meeting, never wasted my time and always brought something to the table; his services are worth your investment.”
